EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if bladder bothers you

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.—Adv. lunch

SMART TOP COATS AND CAPES FOR WINTER SPORTS WEAR

By ELOISE.
Here are three of the newest models for sports and motoring wear. All three are smart and becoming as well as practical. A coat of tan wool duvelyn is shown at the left. It is a mannishly tailored garment, unbelted with large roomy pockets with flaps. This coat may be worn at any hour of the day as a top coat and is particularly good for wear over a suit. The plaid homespun cape in the center will be welcomed by the woman who cannot stand two coats because of the tightness of the sleeves. It has graceful lines and provides an extra warmth that scarcely any wind could penetrate. It is also rain-proofed. There are roomy slits for the arms and a deep collar. This makes a utility wrap which will last for years. The sport cape at the left shows how pretty and dainty sport clothes can be made. It is fashioned of leather with a reversible lining of brushed wool. The wool forms a deep collar which reaches to the bottom of the cape. This makes a smart costume when worn with a small hat and over a short walking suit.

CHANNEL CYCLIST FAILED IN ATTEMPT

LONDON, Oct.—The British Channel cyclist, Miss Zetta Hills, has played a tough luck. After pedaling forty-eight miles on her water cycle, which is an ordinary bicycle supported between two pontoons, the spokes of the wheels having paddles attached to them, her machine broke down three and a half miles from the British coast.

Her extended journey was caused by the tide, which after sending her south from Calais to Boulogne, went northward and then south again, and thus after twelve hours pedaling victory was snatched from her within sight of her goal.

WATSON OPPOSED MANY WAR BILLS

Voted Against Council of Defense, Shipping Board, Armor Plant & Wire Bill

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 14.—The record of Senator James E. Watson, who is campaigning in Indiana now for re-election on a platform predicated on opposition to the League of Nations and advocacy of a separate peace with Germany shows that he dodged, or opposed many important measures during the war. Inasmuch as the Watson camp was the principal sponsor of Senator Harding's primary campaign in Indiana and Watson himself was one of the senatorial cabal that brought about Harding's nomination in Chicago it is not strange to find their votes running parallel in the Senate.

On one or two important measures, however, they separated. For instance Watson is credited with not having voted on the committee amendment introduced in the form of a substitute on the resolution for a separate peace with Germany, while Harding voted for it.

Again the Indiana Senator was not voting when war was declared on Austria-Hungary, while the Republican presidential nominee voted for it.

The Indiana Senator is credited with having opposed the establishment of a National Council of Defense, the creation of the United States Shipping Board, the bill to erect a government plant to manufacture armor plate, and the Wire Control act.

On these measures Harding duplicated Watson's vote. Watson is also shown to have not voted on substitute resolution giving the President power to requisition all vessels of alien enemies, while Harding opposed the measure.

Watson and Harding voted against an amendment to exempt religious and other organizations opposed to war from the draft and Watson opposed the conference report on the Trading With the Enemy Act.

He opposed an amendment providing that no Civil Service examination be required of wives of soldiers or sailors applying for positions under the government during the war while Harding failed to vote.

The Indiana Senator also was not present when Senator Smoot made a motion to proceed to the consideration of a bill increasing the rate of pensions for soldiers and sailors of the Civil War.

BEADED GOWN FOR EVENING AFFAIRS

A tunic dripping with beads is how the designer of this frock explained his creation. It is just about that for it is made of black satin as a foundation with an overdress of heavily beaded chiffon. Black and white sequins form a novel design on the tunic. A tulle rash marks the waistline, which is very low.
